Honorable Clarence Cannon
Chairman, Appropriations Committee
House of Representatives
Washington 25, D. C.

Dear Mr. Chairman:

I know you will be interested in the attached article concerning [redacted] which has been published in the unclassified section of our "Studies in Intelligence". I have asked my Inspector General, Lyman B. Kirkpatrick, who is one of the editors of the "Studies in Intelligence", to bring this up to you and to bring with him some copies of the classified versions so that you can get an idea of our effort to develop a literature of intelligence. As you can well imagine authoritative material on intelligence is very rare but we feel that we have made good progress in the past four years in compiling valuable material to assist our work. Mr. Kirkpatrick will be glad to go into as much detail with you as you desire.

Sincerely yours,

Allen W. Dulles
Director
